AMUSEMENTS

One of the most looked forward to events in local pleasure circles is the concert and dance to be given by the Crescent City Nightingales, at present making a tremendous hit in this city, in the Knights of Pythias hall on Beretania street, corner of Fort, on August 7, Saturday.

The young ladies, by their demure behavior, have already made a host of friends in Honolulu. Before coming here they gave a concert and dance in Hilo for the benefit of a church, and a goodly sum was netted for that worthy institution. They will return to Hilo by the S. S. Mauna Kea leaving here August 10.

Miss Helen Kaniwela, who is a born actress, is the life of the party. Mrs. Miriam Kalolena, the leader, has a charming presence and sings and acts with rare grace.

These delightful visitors not only sing well but are decidedly good looking. Mrs. Lizzie Spalding possesses one of the sweetest voices that has been heard in Honolulu for many a day. Miss Liliha Loa, who, by the way, is the champion lady swimmer of Hilo, is also a singer of more than usual talent. Mrs. Mary Keawe, a charming little lady, sings fetchingly and there is a piquancy about her attractions.

The Seventh Wonder of the World.

The Acetophone which will make its first appearance at the Gem Theater on Thursday, July 29, is said to be the most marvelous invention of the present day and has been exhibited before all crowned heads of Europe and to vast enthusiastic audiences in the Eastern states with unprecedented success. The electric mechanical device presents the latest singing, speaking and acting moving pictures in a startlingly lifelike manner and in perfect unison of voice and action. It will bring before your eyes and to your ears the latest European and American Hits in the histrionic world and must be seen to be fully realized and appreciated.

TO KEEP THE EGG FRESH.

Fresh eggs in cold storage at 34 degrees Fahrenheit undergo little if any change, for this temperature is sufficient to limit the activities and prevent the growth of the more common bacteria.

The problem of preserving eggs by excluding air has brought forth numerous methods. According to American Medicine, German investigators several years ago conducted a series of tests, keeping the eggs for about eight months in some 20 different ways, and found that immersed in brine all were unfit for use; wrapped in paper, 80 per cent bad; packed in bran or coated with paraffine, 70 per cent bad; immersed in sol. salicylic acid, 50 per cent bad; coated with shellac or collodion, 10 per cent bad; packed in wood ashes, 10 per cent bad; coated with vaseline or immersed in a solution of water glass or lime water, none bad.

From these experiments, as well as many others, it has been found that a solution of water glass offers about the best method of preserving eggs, aside from cold storage. Water glass is the common name for potassium or sodium silicate, and is obtained in the shops in the form of a thick liquid something like glycerine. One part of this to nine of sterile water makes a preserving fluid of the proper strength.

The eggs should be packed in a clean, sweet vessel, and the solution poured over them until they are well covered. Preserved in this way in a cool place, they will keep for months and often cannot be distinguished in appearance from the fresh article. It is generally conceded that they lack the flavor of new laid eggs, but are in no way inferior in nutritive value.

The Beggar—Sir, I was not always like this. The Victim—No, last week you were lame in the other leg.—Cleveland Leader.

She—Of course, I'm not as old as you think I am. He—I hope not—I mean you can't be—that is—how old are you?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"A pessimist," said the Philosopher of Folly, "is one who, when he has the choice of two evils, chooses both and sticks around to wait for more."—Cleveland Leader.

"How do you manage to live without work?" asked the kind lady. "I don't, ma'am," answered the hobo. "I'm a workin' somebody."—Chicago Daily News.
